PITTSBURG STEEL COMPANY MEN MAKE INSPECTION AT DUNLEVY

Activity Expected to Follow
at Splendid Industrial Site Up-River

PRESIDENT ROWE IN THE PARTY

Head Officers of Big Corporation
Make Trip—Lay of Land Viewed
And Possibilities of Development
Are Thoroughly Considered.

Hint of activity on the Dunlevy Bottom site about to follow was given today when four officials of the Pittsburgh Steel Company made a thorough inspection, presumably with the view of ascertaining the practicability of the location for a large plant of some nature. Making the inspection were Wallace Rowe, president; Willis J. McCook, vice president; E. P. Bennett, treasurer, all of Pittsburgh and C. J. Mogan of Charleroi, general superintendent.

Alighting from the Fairmont train which made a special stop at Dunlevy on its way out from Pittsburgh at about 10 o'clock, Messrs. Rowe, McCook and Bennett were met by General Superintendent Mogan in automobile. The entire Dunlevy bottom was traversed and careful note taken of the surroundings. The inspection trip continued southward as far as Stockdale and then the party turned back to Monessen.

What is in the wind is a question, though naturally big developments are rumored. The visit of the Pittsburgh Steel Company officials so soon after the serving of ejectment notices last week give rise to the prediction that upon the removal of tenants May 15, immediate activity in the building line will begin. Upon their return to Monessen the party first took lunch then started on an inspection tour of the big mills, so that they could not be located for an interview. A meeting is said to be contemplated this afternoon at which time some sort of decision may be reached in regard to the future development of the Dunlevy site. Some years ago it is understood the Pittsburgh Steel Company had in contemplation the building of a number of much needed coke ovens at Wireton. Nothing much was said of the project at the time but ground was acquired. The financial depression coming with the presidential election caused the plan to be reconsidered. Whether or not the present movement is along the same line cannot be stated.

SENSATION CREATED IN CHARLEROI

A sensation has been created by the Moon Girl and Mermaid company, which appeared at the Palace theatre last night. The immense crowds that witnessed the beautiful and amazing scenic production were loud in their praise of the beautiful Moon Girl who floats over the audience singing sweet strains and showering the audience with fragrant flowers. This amazing act which keeps the audience guessing is considered the finest attraction that has ever played an engagement at the Palace and is run in addition to the regular acts and photo-plays. It will be presented again tonight and Wednesday with a special matinee at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon.

RULING DETERMINES STATE CANNOT HELP BOROUGHS FAYE

Important Decision Handed Down—
Berlin, Borough of Somerset County
Among Those Affected.

The ruling of First Deputy Attorney General William H. Keller to the effect that state highway funds cannot be applied to the permanent improvement of a state highway lying within the limits of a borough, has caused consternation among advocates of highway improvement in some boroughs in this section of the state. Its effect was felt more severely in Berlin, Somerset county, than in any other town. Berlin is one of the towns through which one of the state roads was expected to pass. Its main street was the route of the proposed highway. The borough figured on the state paying a portion of the cost of the work and plans had been made to pave its entire length of brick. In the event that the borough is obliged to do all the work the cost will be prohibitive, it is said, and the project will have to be abandoned.

New Eagle got its road through before this ruling was made and as the settlement between the borough, the townships and state has been made it is likely that the borough will not come under the new provision.

NEW INDUSTRY IS DEVELOPING

Pittsburg District May Become World-Centre in
By-Products

BIG PLANTS CONTEMPLATED

That Pittsburg is destined to become the center of America, if not of the world, in the manufacture of coal by-products, including dyestuffs, within the next three years is the prophesy of the Pittsburgh Industrial Development Commission. According to the commission, more than $30,000,000 has been provided and approximately $10,000,000 additional will be appropriated for the installation of by-product ovens in the Pittsburg district with a view of utilizing the natural advantages of Pittsburg coal and its peculiar adaptability for the development of by-products because of its unusual chemical properties, says the Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Carnegie Steel Company has begun at Clairton, Pa., the construction of the largest by-product coke plant in the United States. In this the corporation will invest approximately $14,000,000 and the American Steel and Wire Company is prepared to spend $5,000,000 on a similar plant. Coal fields from the Connellsville section through all portions of Western Pennsylvania, and including Eastern Ohio, have been surveyed with a view of installing additional plants. Tests have been made of Pittsburg coal throughout the district and the general average has been disclosed of 2 3-4 gallons of

NATURALIZATION SCHOOL STARTED

Twenty six Foreign Born Citizens Appear to Seek Admission—Anxious to Prepare Themselves to Become American Citizens

Twenty-six foreign born men who meant business applied Monday night for admission to the Charleroi naturalization school being started under the auspices of the school authorities. In addition to the 26, two others who already have their citizenship papers appeared at the school in order to pick up such scraps of information as might fall their way in addition to what they already know of American government and practices. Miss Ida Hugg, who is to be the teacher in charge of the school, spent the evening making a test of the actual knowledge of affairs possessed by each applicant. Upon the result of this test will depend the sort of text books that will be ordered and the course of study that will be followed. Classification will be made as soon as possible and the grind of work started.

In the list of prospective citizens are included Italians, Swedes, Holland Dutch, German, Polish, Austrians and Russians.

VESTA COAL COMPANY MAY HAVE NEW OUTLET

Beallsville Neighborhood in Line
For Development if Necessary,
Deals Can Be Closed—Company
Representatives on Hand

Beallsville, long in obscurity as far as industrial developments have been concerned will have a chance to redeem itself, in the near future, it is stated, if matters turn out right and the Vesta Coal company succeeds in purchasing several farms southeast of the place. Last week representatives of the company were making inquiries as to the purchase of the Charles Morton farm and the Baker farm near Beallsville and it is stated that a representative is quoted as saying that could this be done a shaft will likely be put down and a town built on the outskirts of the village.

The sites mentioned are rather centrally located between other shafts, and it is stated that it is only a matter of time when it will be necessary to have a shaft down near the place. With the holdings of the company in the river districts it would be an easy matter to remove the coal to the river section underground.

benzol a ton, about 12,000 cubic feet of gas, and about 10 gallons of coal tar, which heretofore has been a source of supply for benzol, totuol and constituent chemicals. The by-product coke ovens promises to be an enormous source of revenue to the coal companies and steel plants in the Pittsburg district from products which hitherto have been permitted to go to waste.

In addition to the big plants being provided for by the Carnegie Steel Company and American Steel and Wire Company big installations are being made for La Belle Steel Works at Steubenville, Ohio; Cambria Steel Works Republic Iron and Steel Company and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company at Youngstown, while the Pittsburg Westmoreland Coal Company is also said to be negotiating for an enormous installation. While nothing has been announced officially it is reported that the Pittsburg Coal Company has the matter under consideration and that if definitely decided upon the installation will probably be as great, if not greater, than any independent enterprise yet disclosed.

The new Carnegie by-product plant at Clairton will be supplied with coal from the enormous holdings in the Pigeon Creek district. The coal is to be brought to the ovens by a large fleet of river barges and the surplus gas, which will approximate $600,000,000 cubic feet, will be used as a factor for economy in the sup-

ARREST MAN ACCUSED OF SHOOTING QUARTURE

Antonio Procopio Asserted to be Responsible for Hill Station Crime That May Cost One His Life—Mixed Up
In Other Law Violations.

Antonio Procopio, who admits, it is said, that he shot Joseph Quarture in a quarrel at Hills Station, Sunday afternoon a week ago, was arrested Monday at Bentleyville by Constable King Jones of that borough and that night was taken to the county jail by Special Court Officer F. H. Mitchell, to await the outcome of Quarture's injuries. The latter has been lying in the Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, ever since the shooting. Word from the hospital Monday gave hopes, however of his ultimate recovery.

Procopio was a grocer in Bentleyville up until a year ago and was of course well known to Constable Jones. When the latter saw Procopio walking into the village he lost no time in placing him under arrest, knowing that he was wanted for participation in the affair at Hills Station.

Procopio has been employed as a beer agent at Hills Station, living there with his father and two brothers. One of the brothers, Angelo, is said to have been the cause of the dispute which may yet cost Quarture his life. Angelo, although not implicated in the shooting, has been missing since it occurred. Quarture's wife and daughter both assert that Antonio Procopio was the man guilty of the murderous assault.

County officers say that Procopio has been mixed up in various other law violations, but that evidence sufficient to convict him could never be secured. It is alleged that he was the one who furnished the beer for the christening at Hills Station last summer, following which the Frilitta murder occurred.

ply of the open-hearth steel furnaces and for other manufacturing purposes. The steel corporation together with the various concerns which will engage in by-product production will make the Pittsburg district a large world factor in dyestuff production, including benzol, totuol, coal tar and sulphate of ammonia and will mean that the Pittsburg district, with a new and great industry of such proportions, has a standing in the front rank with the already great industrial development of the district.

STATE POLICE TO COME INTO COUNTY FOR DOG KILLING FET

POOL AND BILLIARD MEN ASKED TO MEET DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Low to be Explained to All in County at Meeting to be Held at County Court House Next Monday

District Attorney Isaac W. Baum has given notice to every proprietor of pool and billiard rooms in the county to meet with him on next Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. They will be expected to be present. It is proposed at that time to have the court explain to them the law covering the conducting of pool and billiard rooms and outline the things necessary for the proper conduct of these places.

It will be an unusual gathering. Intimations have reached the district attorney of violations of the law in many pool and billiard rooms. It has been deemed advisable, after going into the matter by the district attorney to have those who conduct pool and billiard rooms, meet with him and to be let known just exactly what the law is covering their business. After that is done there can be no excuse that they did not know they were violating the law.

ALLEGED FORTUNE TELLER ACCUSED

Police Department Make
First Move Toward Discontinuance of It.

SAYS WARNINGS NOT NEEDED

Charged with violations of the law through telling fortunes and predicting the future, Mrs. J. B. Van Vlaselaer has been engaged in fortune telling and placed under $300 bond by Justice of the Peace E. E. Rice Monday afternoon. Information was lodged by Chief of Police C. W. Albright. It is alleged that Mrs. Van Vlaselaer has been engaged in fortune telling work for months. Last September, Chief Albright says, she was given a warning. It is maintained she failed to stop the practice.

The police have other names of alleged fortune tellers who are said to be in operation here as well as the evidence necessary to convict them if they do not make a hasty exit or close up shop. Chief Albright says: "We have information against three fortune tellers and two spiritualists. One is located at Eighth and Oakland one near McKean avenue on Fifth street and three in the lower end of town. These five are to consider this sufficient notice to cease their operations. They will not be warned but proceeded against legally if they do not discontinue their work at once."

CONSTABLES DELINQUE

Number of Officials in Certain Parts
Of the County Who Have Refu-
Or Failed to Kill Unlicensed Dogs
According to Law.

Upon authority of the county commissioners the superintendent of state police, John C. Groom, has asked to send into this county a number of the state police for the purpose of killing unlicensed dogs, those districts where the constables have refused or have failed to comply with the law in the killing of licensed dogs. The law provides this can be done.

Under the law, where a constable refuses or fails to perform his duty as required by law in disposing these unlicensed dogs, he is subject a penalty of $2 for each dog killed. This amount will be deducted from any costs due him from county, on transcripts, quarterly turns, etc. That is, if a constable making his next quarterly return has failed to kill the unlicensed dogs in his district, the penalty against him for the number not disposed of will be deducted from costs.

The state constabulary will be required to keep a record of the killed and where killed, so that it be ascertained what constable is delinquent. Every dog killed will be charged up against the constable the rate of $2 each and that sum from any costs due him from county.

There are some constables in county who have refused and failed to kill the unlicensed dogs required. It is stated there are wards in Washington, in which constables are delinquent; also in well township, Finleyville, and other places. In those places the state constabulary will carry out the duties constable has failed to perform.

Another matter the commission have taken up is relative to the boring of unlicensed dogs. A person harboring an unlicensed whether owner or not, is liable the tax on that dog. The const cannot go into the place where dog is being kept and kill it, but commissioners can prosecute persons who harbor unlicensed dogs. The commissioners are now securing evidence of harbored dogs and a mand will be made for the tax as it is not paid, prosecutions will be made. It is stated that probable first prosecution will be in Alexander, where it is said a man harboring an unlicensed dog, late at the constable's effort and refused to pay the tax due. The costs taxes, in case of prosecution, will be $12 to $15.

Close to 1,000 dogs have already been killed over the county. The stable in Cecil reported close to killed. In other districts there have been large numbers slain.

FOOD AND SPRING FEVER.

"Soft-pedal the proteins" is the advice of Mrs. Catherine Frederick, a nationally famous housekeeper, expert. "That tired feeling," she says is simply the result of an overworked system. In the winter the body craves meats, fats, starches, sweets, all the fuel foods. When the spring comes on and the out-door world does the warming for us, we no longer need the heavy food of the winter time. The need of the spring is for salads, fish, fruit, uncooked cereals.

The lenten period of fasting is an excellent provision for getting the system into shape for the coming summer, says the Pennsylvania Spirit. It means substituting eggs, fish, spring greens and new vegetables for the heavier feeding previously indulged in.

To make any sort of abrupt change in one's diet is not wise. To cut out the most nourishing foods altogether, such as meat, potatoes and bread, is to play havoc with one's digestion and one's mental and physical power. This is not at all what is meant by the expert. A certain amount of meat, milk, butter, starch and sweet is needed all the year round. The spring adjustment is merely a question of proportions. But if the meat is cut down a third, spinach eaten instead of corn, lettuce and raw cabbage instead of milk puddings, any other spring tonic won't be needed.

AMBITION VS. HEALTH.

The accumulated knowledge of science regarding the workings of the human mind demonstrates how little has been accomplished toward discovering the relationship between the physical and the mental. It is however plain to even the most casual observer that the condition of the mind makes a profound impression upon our health remarks State Health Commissioner Samuel C. Dixon.

The intensity of life in modern civilization makes demands upon us in many ways that are in excess of those which a more primitive environment required of our forefathers. This often results in a mental and nervous condition detrimental to good health.

We Americans have often been accused by observers from other lands of living under an intense strain and struggling to advance our financial and social status greatly at the expense of higher aims. It is unquestionably true that ambition often leads us far from the paths of peace and contentment. Our National ideals seem to lean strongly toward the achievement of pecuniary success. In seeking this thousands of men and women sacrifice themselves and fail to observe the simple rules of right living which their intelligence teaches are necessary for the maintenance of health.

Those who plunge unrestrainedly into the exhausting struggle for great riches and power cast aside what the philosophers of all ages have deemed most worth while, the peace of an humble mind open to impressions of the wonders and beauties of Nature, art and the sweetness and purpose of a simple life.

The announcement of the beginning of a spring campaign against vagrancy on the streets carries with it a certain satisfaction, as well as a hope that the campaign is long continued and wisely conducted from a broad standpoint. Under the general term of vagrancy might well come street loafing, of which there appears to be a great deal. Strangers without any visible means of support are not the only offenders. When a woman hesitates to walk a certain street because of fear of insult, conditions have become pretty bad. This may not be the case at this exact time, but usually it is a spring complaint.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In a certain provincial town there lives an old maid who has the reputation of being about the fastest talker on record, added to which her tongue has more than the average amount of venom. One day recently, however, she met her match. A peddler called and had the impudence to ring the front doorbell. A moment later the door was opened, and when the woman saw who it was she at once gave him a piece of her mind, finally concluding with:

"And now then you can be off."

"I saw that notice so I rang the bell, and now I want to know why you can't ring it yourself?"

"IT SAVED MY LIFE" DECLARED MRS. F. BENNETT

Pittsburg Woman Now Attributes Her Recovery to Master Medicine.

"This Tanlac has relieved me of that dreadful catarrh," said Mrs. Florence Bennett, residing at 429 Atwood Street, Pittsburg, Pa., recently, "and I now feel like an entirely new woman."

"I had catarrh of the stomach and head. My head was all stopped up, feeling full and sore most of the time. I am certain that I swallowed the accumulations in my throat when I slept at night as I never had any appetite for breakfast."

"I was in a terrible debilitated condition, too. It seemed that I had almost no blood circulation. I suffered intensely from headaches, and my sleep never was sound and restful. I was nervous and languid and lacked energy. I positively declare that my housework had become a real drudgery."

"One day recently a friend said to me, 'Why don't you try this new Tanlac?' I know of persons it has helped and it may prove beneficial to you." I decided to try Tanlac and obtained a bottle of the medicine. After taking a few doses I noticed much improvement in my condition.

"My head became clearer and I noticed that my catarrh was fast disappearing. My appetite became so ravenous that it was difficult to satisfy it. I began sleeping peacefully and my sleep is now restful and beneficial. I have gained strength and weight rapidly. My headaches have gone, and the circulation of my blood is now normal."

"That languid, listless, tired-all-the-time feeling has left me and my housework has become a pleasure rather than a duty."

Tanlac is now sold in Charleroi exclusively by Pipers Drug Store where the premier preparation can now be had.

GREAT SALT LAKE.

Its Water is Saline Simply Because It Has No Outlet.

Great Salt Lake has no outlet. The Jordan river, which enters it from the south, is the outlet of Utah lake. Bear river, coming from the north, carries the outflow from Bear lake. The waters of Utah and Bear lakes and of Jordan and Bear rivers are fresh, and so is the water of Weber river, the third great tributary of Great Salt Lake, but the lake into which the three rivers flow is saline. It is saline because it has no outlet.

The fresh waters of the rivers contain some saline matter, but the quantity is too small to be discovered by taste.

As stated by the chemist, in parts per million, the quantity seems minute, but when account is taken of the total volume of water brought by the streams to the lake in a year their burden of saline matter is found to be really great, amounting annually to more than 300,000 tons.

Year by year and century by century the water which they pour into the lake is evaporated, but the dissolved solids cannot escape in that way, and therefore remain.

They have accumulated until the lake water is approximately saturated holding nearly as much mineral matter as it can retain in solution. The lake contains over 5,000,000,000 tons of common salt and 900,000,000 tons of glauber salt (sodium sulphate) as well as other mineral matter.—New York Telegram.

ROMANCE OF THE BAHAMAS.

Life in Nassau Was Once a "Purple Princely Thing."

During the American war between the states Nassau of the Bahamas was very much on the tongues of men, as the devil-may-care euphorium of contraband cotton, whereby hangs many a dashing sea story, some of which you can still hear from the lips of the men who took part in them.

The whole history of the Bahamas, since Columbus made his first landfall in the western seas on Watling's Island, has been a fantastic record of desperate opportunism. The prize of "legitimate" business has seldom dulled the edge of precarious prosperity on these desolate islands, whose very existence still seems at the grudging mercy of the sea.

Because of wrecking and blockade running—no more tedious employ than these masculine professions occupied the Bahamians for generations, and so long as there were merchantmen to be boarded or scuttled, rich cargoes to be harvested from the white fanged reefs or cotton to be run to Wilmington at a profit of $100,000 the trip life in Nassau was a purple princely thing, and even the shoe-blacks in Bay street played pitch and toss with gold.—Richard Le Gallienne in Harper's Magazine.

Then one day he discovered Mayr's Wonderful Remedy—and soon was happy.

Mr. Beckwith wrote to Geo. H. Mayr, the maker of the remedy and for twenty years the leading druggist of Chicago.

"I believe that Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is the greatest stomach remedy on earth. One dose would convince any one who is troubled with his stomach of its wonderful merits. It removed some of the most awful looking stuff from my stomach. I have taken other remedies, but they never helped me."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfied money will be returned.

Why falter on the HILLS

Hill-hesitation is galling to your average driver. His sporting-blood boils when a 1910-Complex flies past on the first long pull with apparent ease and matter-of-factness. Invariably he bawls-out his motor and labels it "a cheese." But—ten-to-one, the motor itself is guiltless. The real cause is faulty lubrication.

If your car does the hesitation on the grades, look first to the kind of oil you are using. The Atlantic Refining Company, the oldest and largest manufacturers of lubricating oils in the world, have produced a group of four motor oils that answer every lubrication question, under any and all driving conditions.

Polarine, the leader of the group, is the correct lubricant for eight out of ten cars. The alternatives are Atlantic "Light," Atlantic "Medium," and Atlantic "Heavy."

Read up on this subject. We have published a handsome and comprehensive book about lubrication. It is free. Ask your garage for it. If they cannot supply you, drop us a postal and the book will be sent you without charge.

Fat Baby Boy

Raw and Blistered—Healed by

Here is Proof and Nurse's Letter:

Nurse Dudley, of Buffalo, N.Y., says: "Every nurse and mother should know how quickly Sykes Comfort Powder heals the skin. After all other remedies failed it healed the raw, blistered skin of a fat baby boy."

This is because of the healing, soothing and antiseptic medication combined in Sykes Comfort Powder, and not found in any other preparation.

LAW AND JUSTICE.

The Old Squire Could Strike a Nice Balance Between the Two.

There is an old New England squire whose knowledge of the statute law is limited, but who has decided views as to common justice. Not long ago a certain Zed Smith was brought before him charged with larceny.

It appeared from the evidence that Zed had rented a horse from a farmer to do some hauling and that during the period the animal had remained in his possession he had fed it from the owner's stock of grain, although the agreement was that Zed himself should supply the feed. He was charged by the farmer therefore with the theft of two bushels of oats and corn.

"The statutes made and provided," the old squire announced ponderously, "say that theft is to convert to your own use the property of another. The horse is the servant of the owner, not of Zed, and Zed converted them oats to the horse's use, not his, so I acquit Zed of stealing them oats. He ain't guilty of larceny."

Zed rose, thanked the squire and was about to leave the room when the old man called him back.

"As I said, Zed," he remarked, with a gleam of humor in his eye, "you ain't guilty of larceny, but you shore air guilty of something, and I'm goin' to send you to jail for a month for it."—Youth's Companion.

How Tea Is Named.

In India and Ceylon teas are named according to the different leaves of the plant. The two small leaves at the tip of the shoot produce, as a rule, the best tea, known as "flowery" and "orange" pekoe. Pekoe without an adjective (literally "white down") is made from the leaf immediately below those of the orange and flowery. Next in the descending scale is the leaf of the somewhat coarser southerly ("little sprouts"), and lower still are larger leaves yielding congenial (laborer's) tea, or tea on which much labor is required to make it fit for the market) and Bohea. Blended tea is now often described as "congou." Originally the name Bohea was applied to any kind of black tea, it being assumed that it all came from Wui (pronounced by the Chinese Bu).—London Chronicle.

When Pens Were First Used.

About the year 600 A. D. pens made of quills were introduced. This is shown by the fact that the word penman, a quill, is not found, it is claimed, in any work bearing an earlier date. Previous to that time the word calamus, signifying a reed, was exclusively employed as a designation for the vehicle used in transferring the ink to the parchment or other surface selected by the writers of that early age. Steel pens first came into use in 1503, and about twenty-two years later those composed of gold made their appearance.

Almost a Getaway.

"Where are you going?" asked the proprietor of a rooming house who was roused in the early hours of the morning just in time to catch a lodger, creeping stealthily downstairs with his baggage in his hands.

"Oh—er," stammered the lodger. "I was walking in my sleep."

"Umph! It's a lucky thing I wasn't walking in my sleep. I might have dreamed you paid me before you tried to leave."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Measure of Economy.

"Riterson says he is not appreciated in his own community and that hereafter he will send all his humorous stories to publications in distant cities."

"A very good plan too. He wants to make a little wit go a long way."—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Both Boiling.

"If water is stirred with a paddle for five hours it will be boiling." "So would any cook who was asked to do it."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

KENTUCKY COLONELS.

In the Nature of Things They Simply Can't Help Being Numerous.

In the south especially and in Kentucky more especially a man becomes a colonel at about forty-seven unless he is of a willful, rebellious, obstreperous disposition and inclined to stand up for an admitted but rarely exercised right not to become known as "colonel." A man who is not sudden and quick in quarrels and who can be put upon a paragon of becoming "colonel." Many men whose courage is unquestioned prefer not to engage in street fights in opposition to an established custom. It is the rule rather than the exception to submit good naturedly or with concealed impatience when the first three gray hairs appear at the temples and the use of the title begins by popular consent.

There are, of course, many colonels under forty. When a governor is inaugurated he has the power to appoint staff colonels. A governor who does not appoint as colonels such of his constituents as he knows by name is lacking in the punctiliousness which distinguishes the practical politician. Thus many young men who would have been "lieutenants" if they had adopted a military career are made colonels in civil life. Another predisposing cause of premature colonelcy is the tendency of some men to become fat early in life. A man who measures as much as forty inches at the waist line and has not been convicted of felony is entitled, even obliged, to be called "colonel" before he is forty.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

HER BORROWED ROBE.

It Brought an Actress the Most Perilous Moment of Her Life.

"The only time I ever was a thief saved my life," said Rose Coghlan once. "My sister-in-law, Louisa Thornton, was playing in 'Colleen Bawn' in Scott's ad. I was Anne Chure, one of the bridesmaids, and I always dressed in Louisa's room with her."

"This particular night she was ill, and her understudy went on. Now, it happened that I had lusted and longed to wear a certain costume of Louisa's. It wasn't one bit suitable for a girl of my age in a bridesmaid part, being made of heavy white corded silk with a long court train and all the fixings, but I dressed it."

"I dressed up in it and went out to wait for the cue with the other girls. Just as we were ready to go on some one behind me said, 'Rose, your dress is on fire!'"

"I think that is the most fearful word that can sound in a theater—'Fire!' My train had caught fire from one of the little gas footlights, unprotected then."

"The girls in their light dresses were trying to get away from me, and the nearest man, Hardress, was handcuffed. I crushed my train in my hands to smother the creeping flame and backed off down the steps under the stage. A man down there threw a heavy cloak over me, and I fainted. I was burned badly around my hands and arms and neck, but the heavy silk dress saved me."—New York World.

The Tyrant in the Field.

There have been few commanders so tyrannous as Lopez, the dictator of Paraguay, when in the war of 1865-70 it fought single handed the neighboring countries of Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay. Lopez, says Mr. W. H. Koebel in his "Argentina," was wont to carry the theory of victory or death to an uncomfortable point. "Officers were executed for mere remarks whose tone fell beneath the standard of confidence that Lopez had set up for himself. One, for instance, was shot for having announced in the course of his duty that the enemy was strongly intrenched! Another met his end on account of an ungoverned speech to the effect that the Paraguayan army was accustomed to count the enemy's losses and forget its own."

Yawning.

Yawning is a peculiar act and one that has never yet been properly accounted for. It is not by any means a sign of fatigue only, although it is sometimes produced by overexertion. But an attack of yawning comes on much more quickly if one is intensely bored, and certainly a stuffy atmosphere tends to produce it. It is also noticeable that when one has gone considerably past one's mealtime the tendency to yawn frequently becomes irresistible. A very peculiar feature of this complaint is its infectiousness: one person can easily set half a dozen all yawning in turn. When present in a very marked extent it is supposed to be the outcome of anaemia, indigestion or some other complaint.

Real Sympathy.

An old farmer down the country giving instructions for his will directed a legacy of $25,000 to be given to his wife. Being informed that some distinction was usually made in case the widow married again, he doubled the sum, and when told that this was contrary to custom he said, with heartfelt sympathy for his possible successor, "Aye, but him that gets her'll deserve it."

CLOUD FORMATIONS.

Why the Masses of Moisture Are Able to Float in the Air.

Clouds consist of particles of condensed water vapor and in some cases of extremely fine spicules of ice, which is also formed from water vapor. Water vapor which arises by evaporation from the surface of seas, lakes, etc., is lighter than dry air at the same temperature and pressure. It is also invisible.

It disseminates itself through the atmosphere and ascends to great heights. There, owing to the fall of temperatures and to other causes, it begins to condense into particles which are slightly heavier than air and which become visible clouds.

Owing to the influence of winds and of rising currents as well as to the fact that the condensed particles are nearly as light as air the clouds remain floating, like fine suspended matter in water, until further condensation creates particles of sufficient size to form raindrops, whose relative great weight brings them rapidly to the ground.

That clouds do slowly descend even when not condensed into rain may be observed when they are seen to dissolve and disappear without apparent cause. This is caused by the cloud's descent to a level where a rise of temperature causes the condensed water vapor to re-evaporate, thus becoming again invisible.—New York Journal.

MOST ANCIENT TREATY.

Carved in Stone on the Walls of Two Egyptian Temples.

On the walls of two of Egypt's greatest temples, that of Karnak and the Ramesseum at Thebes, carved in the everlasting stone of the dry land of the Nile, says the Christian Herald, is the oldest international treaty known to man. Rameses the Great, one of the saviors, is the best known man of remote antiquity. Khetasar (the czar of the Kheta or Hittites), the other party to the treaty, is unknown except to a few, and his nation is little known even to the scholars.

The Hittites were a mighty race, whose empire, equal in rank with the mighty empire of Egypt and Babylonia, once extended over 400,000 square miles of territory in Asia Minor and Syria. A few years ago practically nothing was known of the life and civilization of these mysterious people.

They are mentioned in the Bible and in the Egyptian and Assyrian records, but until very recently their own story had never been read by modern man. Today, thanks to the excavations that were carried on at the capital city of Carchemish, much has been learned about this great group of tribes, and orderly evidence about them is now available for the first time in 2,000 years.

Scientist Who Couldn't Light a Fire.

Lord Kelvin, like Lord Morley, once amused a Scottish audience with a display of ignorance. At a lecture in Edinburgh, with Lord Kelvin in the chair, the Duke of Argyll was taken suddenly ill. "When the aged peer was carried down to one of the ante-rooms," said a local paper, "one of the first things to be thought of was the lighting of a fire, and this task was tackled by the duke's host, Lord Kelvin. But instead of placing some paper in the grate and some wood on that in the orthodox manner, he amazed the on-lookers by desperate efforts to kindle a handful of sticks at a gas burner. Ordinary mortals may be pardoned for taking some satisfaction in the fact that even so great a philosopher as Lord Kelvin did not know how to light a fire."

Oddest of Queer Fishes.

A queer fish that does not swim is the "sargasso fish," known to sailors as the "frogfish." It lives in that vast mass of floating seaweed called the Sargasso sea, in mid-Atlantic. Its pectoral fins are so modified and developed as to resemble arms, and it uses them for clinging to the weed. Very gaudily colored, it changes its hues to match the aquatic vegetation by which it is surrounded, and when the latter decays and turns brown it assumes a corresponding shade.

The fish lays its eggs in a jelly-like mass, which, absorbing a great quantity of water, becomes three times as big as the mother fish herself, assuming the form of a narrow raft three or four feet long and two to four inches wide.

Looking Back.

"This car of yours seems to give you great pleasure." "Yes, I often wonder how I ever got along without it," answered the motorist loftily. "Walking tires me dreadfully and is—er—somewhat plebeian."

"Pardon me for reminding you of the painful past, but I happen to know that you used to cover considerable territory as a mere pedestrian."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

After the Wedding.

"Your pa promised to give a dowry of 20,000 marks. When is he going to pay?" "Well, if he promised 20,000 marks he meant 2,000, and you ought not to insist on such a trifling sum!"—Meggendorfer Blätter.

McSwine's Gun.

McSwine's gun is a prodigious cavity in the cliffs on the coast of County Donegal, Ireland, into which the tide rushes with such force as to produce a sound like the booming of a cannon, which can be heard twenty or thirty miles away.

If then art a man, dare those who attempt great enterprises, even though they fail. Seneca.

Melbourne, a City That Planned.
There is and always has been a great amount of public spirit in Melbourne, due in large part, to the Scotch element that has predominated from the beginning. "The first citizens, led by Scots, as a rule, set to work with magnificent faith in the future. A city was planned worthy of being the capital of 10,000,000 people, and the public buildings were designed on the same generous scale. The soil on the site was deep and rich. That suggested tree planting, and most of the streets are today relieved by handsome foliage, and the parks which ring the city round have trees worthy of the forests of Europe. The avenue of elms in Fitzroy gardens certainly represents that tree at its best.—Bishop E. E. Hoss in Dallas News

The Blind Man's Lantern.
A blind man in Khoota (a Caucasian village) came back from the river one night bringing a pitcher of water and carrying in his hand a lighted lantern. Some one meeting him said: "You're blind. It's not the same to you whether it's day or night. Of what use to you is a lantern?" "I don't carry the lantern in order to see the road," replied the blind man, "but to keep some fool like you from running against me and breaking my pitcher."

Never Neglect Colds; Treat Them Promptly

Often they lead to those pulmonary troubles which are responsible for more than one-tenth of all lives lost through illness. Heavy colds which develop deep-seated coughs or cause inflammation of the air-passages and persist in spite of medication, weaken the system to a point where resistance easily is overcome and asthma, bronchitis and pulmonary troubles are the result. To renew normal resistance, Eckman's Alternative has been found highly beneficial in many instances. Its lime content is so combined with other remedial agents as to be easily assimilated by the average person—and it contains no narcotics or habit-forming drugs of any sort. So it's safe to try.
